

Suzanne Thompson

Post Production & VFX Pro

SUMMARY

A post-production and vfx veteran working across Film and HETV. With over two decades of experience Suz has been on the front lines as technology, workflows, creative tools and the industry itself have evolved. Starting their career operating a camera and then eventually moving into working at world class post-production & vfx studios as an Executive Leader, responsible for talent teams upwards of 500+ and nurturing deep client relationships with filmmakers, creators, producers and every major Studio and Streamer. Suz is an innovative thinker, has a skilled eye for visual storytelling, creative and business instincts, and a keen collaborator.

Suz is also a co-founder and former 6 term elected chair of the Vancouver Post Alliance, has served on the executive board with the Motion Picture Production Association of British Columbia and led the effort to lobby government in successfully including post-production in the tax incentive programs for the creative Industries. An active member of the MPPIA equity and inclusion committee. A recipient of the WIFTV - Wayne Black Service Award – which honours a woman or gender diverse person for their continued behind the scenes contribution within the Film and TV community. Currently living on the West Coast of Canada and holds US/Can dual citizenship. Suz cares deeply about social justice, the planet and advocating for it's marginalized inhabitants.
